Fifty-second session
Agenda item 108

PROMOTION AND PROTECTION OF THE RIGHTS OF CHILDREN

Status of the Convention on the Rights of the Child

Report of the Secretary-General

1. The General Assembly, by its resolution 44/25 of 20 November 1989, adopted the Convention on the Rights of the Child. The Convention was opened for signature in New York on 26 January 1990 and entered into force on 2 September 1990, the thirtieth day after the deposit with the Secretary-General of the twentieth instrument of ratification or accession.

2. By part I of its resolution 51/77 of 22 November 1996, the General Assembly urged once again all States that had not done so to sign and ratify or accede to the Convention as a matter of priority, with a view to reaching the goal of universal adherence; emphasized the importance of the full implementation by States parties of the provisions of the Convention; urged States parties to the Convention to accept the amendment to paragraph 2 of article 43 of the Convention, which would increase the membership of the Committee on the Rights of the Child from 10 to 18 experts; called upon States parties to ensure that the education of the child shall be carried out in accordance with article 29 of the Convention; called upon States parties, in accordance with their obligations under article 42, to make the principles and provisions of the Convention widely known to adults and children alike; and stressed that the implementation of the Convention contributed to the achievement of the goals of the World Summit for Children. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to submit to the Assembly at its fifty-second session a report containing information on the status of the Convention on the Rights of the Child.

3. The Commission on Human Rights, at its fifty-third session, adopted resolution 1997/78 of 18 April 1997, in which it welcomed the constructive role of the Committee on the Rights of the Child in creating awareness of the principles and provisions of the Convention and in providing recommendations to States parties on its implementation; called upon States parties to accept the amendment to paragraph 2 of article 43 of the Convention, and called upon States parties and organs and bodies of the United Nations as well as intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations, the media and the community at large to make the principles and provisions of the Convention widely known and to encourage training on the rights of the child for those involved in activities concerning children, for example through the programme of advisory services and technical cooperation in the field of human rights; decided to request the Secretary-General to ensure the provision of appropriate staff and facilities for the effective and expeditious performance of the functions of the Committee, while noting the Plan of Action of the High Commissioner for Human Rights to strengthen the implementation of the Convention; and welcomed the Committee's decision to devote its next general discussion to the rights of children with disabilities. The Commission furthermore called upon all States to eliminate all forms of discrimination against girls and the root causes of son preference; requested the working groups on draft optional protocols to the Convention respectively on the involvement of children in armed conflicts and on the sale of children, child prostitution and child pornography to meet each for a period of two weeks, or less if possible, prior to the fifty-fourth session of the Commission to pursue their mandates; called upon all States to protect refugee and internally displaced children; welcomed measures taken by Governments to eliminate the exploitation of child labour and the efforts of the Committee on the Rights of the Child in the area of child labour; called upon all States to continue to seek comprehensive solutions to the problems of street children; decided to request the Secretary-General to follow up the recommendation by the General Assembly to appoint for a period of three years a special representative on the impact of armed conflict on children; and decided also to request the Secretary-General to submit a report on the status of the Convention to the Commission at its fifty-fourth session.

4. As at 10 July 1997, the Convention had been ratified or acceded to by 191 States. In addition, one State had signed the Convention. The list of States that have signed, ratified or acceded to the Convention, as well as the dates of their signature, ratification or accession, is contained in the annex to the present report.

5. The sixth meeting of the States parties to the Convention was convened by the Secretary-General at United Nations Headquarters on 18 February 1997, for the purpose of electing five members of the Committee to replace those whose terms were due to expire. The following experts were elected or re-elected for the period 1997-2001:

Mr. Francesco Paolo Fulci (Italy)
Mrs. Nafsiah Mboi (Indonesia)
Mrs. Esther Margaret Queen Mokhuane (South Africa)
Mr. Ghassan Salim Rabah (Lebanon)
Mrs. Marilia Sardenberg (Brazil)

6. In addition, following the resignation of Mrs. Akila Belembaogo (Burkina Faso) and Mr. Thomas Hammarberg (Sweden), Mrs. Awa N'Deye Ouedraogo and Mrs. Lisbeth Palme were respectively nominated by the Governments of Burkina Faso and Sweden for the remainder of the terms of Mrs. Belembaogo and

Mr. Hammarberg. The appointments of Mrs. Ouedraogo and Mrs. Palme were approved by the Committee.

7. The Committee on the Rights of the Child held its thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth sessions at the United Nations Office at Geneva from 23 September to 11 October 1996, 6 to 24 January 1997 and 20 May to 6 June 1997, respectively.

Fifty-second session
Item 95 of the provisional agenda*

QUESTION OF EAST TIMOR

Progress report of the Secretary-General

1. In his last report (A/51/361), my predecessor updated the General Assembly on the seventh and eighth rounds of talks he had held with the Foreign Ministers of Indonesia and Portugal in January and June 1996 and on the second meeting of the All-inclusive Intra-East Timorese Dialogue held in March 1996.

2. In the same report, it was indicated that the ninth round of talks with the two Foreign Ministers would take place in New York on 21 December 1996, to be preceded by discussions between their two Permanent Representatives in New York, to be led by the Secretary-General's Special Adviser. While the contacts with the two sides continued in subsequent months, various matters not directly related to the issue impeded the holding of preparatory meetings, as originally envisaged. Consequently, at the suggestion of the Secretary-General, the ninth round of ministerial talks was postponed to a later date.

3. Since taking office, I have stressed on several occasions my intention to give a new impetus to my good offices on the question of East Timor. In February 1997, I appointed as my Personal Representative for East Timor Mr. Jamsheed Marker (Pakistan), who now represents me in all aspects of my good offices function on this issue, although I have remained personally engaged in the process. Mr. Marker immediately embarked upon a process of intensive consultations with the Governments of Indonesia and Portugal on how to revitalize the effort to find a just, comprehensive and internationally acceptable solution to the problem. He travelled to Portugal from 5 to 8 March 1997 and visited Indonesia and East Timor from 20 to 31 March 1997. He was received by President Sampaio and Prime Minister Guterres in Lisbon and by President Soeharto in Jakarta. He held extensive discussions with Foreign Ministers Gama and Alatas of Portugal and Indonesia, respectively, as well as other officials and a cross-section of East Timorese figures.

4. On the basis of the report of my Personal Representative on his consultations, I invited the two Foreign Ministers to meet with me in New York on 19 and 20 June 1997, in order to consider a revised format for the tripartite talks aimed at instituting more structured and intensive negotiations. The Ministers agreed to my proposal that the talks should continue at the working level, chaired by my Personal Representative, and that their substance would be kept confidential.[1] At the same time, both sides reaffirmed their commitment to work in a cooperative spirit in order to achieve a lasting political solution to the question of East Timor.

5. Working-level talks, led by senior Foreign Ministry officials from Indonesia and Portugal and under the chairmanship of my Personal Representative, were held in New York from 4 to 7 August 1997. Those talks, which were constructive and businesslike, will continue in a sustained and confidential manner.

6. At my meeting with them in June, the Ministers also agreed that the All-inclusive Intra-East Timorese Dialogue would continue and that my Personal Representative would carry out the necessary consultations for the early convening of the next meeting. In July 1997, the desk officer responsible for East Timor in the Department of Political Affairs was dispatched to Indonesia, East Timor and Lisbon for consultations with East Timorese figures in preparation for the next All-inclusive Intra-East Timorese Dialogue, which I hope to convene in October 1997.

7. Recently, President Nelson Mandela of South Africa took an important initiative to lend support to my good offices. During his State visit to Indonesia in July 1997, he discussed the issue of East Timor with President Soeharto and, with the agreement of his host, he met with Mr. 'Xanana' Gusmao, the East Timorese pro-independence leader serving a 20-year jail term. Upon his return, he briefed me about his discussions in Jakarta, reiterating that his interest was in assisting the efforts of the United Nations on this issue and not in opening a separate negotiating track. Subsequently, I dispatched Ambassador Marker to South Africa, and he held a very useful meeting with the President in Pretoria on 26 August 1997. I warmly welcome this important initiative by President Mandela.

Item 122 of the provisional agenda*

SCALE OF ASSESSMENTS FOR THE APPORTIONMENT OF THE EXPENSES OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Letter dated 16 September 1997 from the Secretary-General to the President of the General Assembly

At present, 12 Member States are in arrears under the terms of Article 19 of the Charter of the United Nations, which states as follows:

> "A Member of the United Nations which is in arrears in the payment of its financial contributions to the Organization shall have no vote in the General Assembly if the amount of its arrears equals or exceeds the amount of the contributions due from it for the preceding two full years. The General Assembly may, nevertheless, permit such a Member to vote if it is satisfied that the failure to pay is due to conditions beyond the control of the Member."

The minimum payments necessary to reduce the amounts owed by those Member States on their contributions so that they remain below the gross amount owed for the preceding two full years (1995-1996) are the following:

	United States dollars
Bosnia and Herzegovina	687 291
Central African Republic	359 277
Chad	126 677
Dominica	20 169
Equatorial Guinea	60 477
Gambia	126 677
Iraq	4 653 836
Republic of Moldova	1 234 362
Sao Tome and Principe	126 677
Somalia	528 077
Togo	25 077
Yugoslavia	10 844 956
